Financial Discussion – Statement of Activities (Income Statement)

VTC's income statement appears to exhibit steady positive operating results.

During our review period, VTC posted positive operating results ranging from $2.3 million to $1.5 million, representing very healthy operating margins. VTC appears to be one of the stronger HELP II borrowers who have applied for a loan.

Revenues include major components such as fees from government agencies, which are all of VTC's contract income. VTC received an overall 5% increase in revenue effective January 1, 2008. VTC's occupancy level has been consistent, which has led to steady revenue from fees throughout the review period.

Expenses have been rather stable with increases in areas such as insurance, transportation, and food, accounting for most of the increases. These increases are due to the rising cost of operations.

The loss on investments was a result of unrealized gains/losses in investments, due to normal market fluctuations in the financial markets. VTC's management and Board have been working closely with financial advisors to manage its investment portfolio to weather the current economic state with the most effective approach possible.

Financial Discussion – Statements of Financial Position (Balance Sheet)

VTC's balance sheet appears to indicate that total assets and liquidity have increased each FY during our review period.

VTC's cash position has increased to $6.9 million in FY 09, a healthy 100 days cash on hand (see comment below on cash reserves). This liquidity provides a solid cash reserve for VTC moving forward. In addition, VTC has minimal leverage with the only long-term debt from one loan with an outstanding balance of approximately $316,000 as of FY 09. The proforma debt to unrestricted net assets ratio is a very modest .02x. The proforma debt service coverage ratio is a solid 46.36x, indicating VTC should likely comfortably be able to repay the HELP II loan.

VTC's management specifically discussed their business plan for maintaining healthy cash reserves to take advantage of the declining real estate market and possibly purchase several additional group homes to further expand its services in the future (thus explaining VTC's current motivation behind applying for a HELP II loan.) In addition, VTC leases approximately 10 group homes that it may wish to purchase in the future. Finally, VTC management indicates that Continuing Care Licensing recommends a minimum reserve of 3 to 4 months cash on hand.

IV. ORGANIZATION

Background and Licensing

VTC was licensed in 1968, established itself as a non-profit corporation in 1974, and then settled on its current corporate name in 1992. At the core of VTC's treatment philosophy is the belief that mental health clients should be treated in the least restrictive community-based setting possible. VTC clients are children and adolescents who have experienced multiple placement failures and are the most resistive to treatment. As a result of the success with these youngsters, VTC is considered to be an alternative to state hospitalization and locked settings.

Services include residential and Medi-Cal reimbursable services. It is VTC's belief that a program's success is contingent upon being a full partner in a continuum of care.

Licensing:

VTC will be licensed by the California Department of Social Services to operate and maintain the proposed group home located at 955 S. Lilac Avenue, Rialto, CA 92376.
